A Best-Practices Training Program

The Pathway to Selling Alcohol Safely program is an all-inclusive CD-based training program that teaches employees and management the best practices when selling alcoholic beverages for off-premise consumption.

Supplemental materials include lesson sheets, quizzes (with answer keys) and other subject resources. This kit was created with funding by USDOT/NHSTA/FHWA in partnership with the Ohio Department of Public Safety and the Governor's Highway Safety office.

The Pathway to Food Safety program includes both Management and Associate training on the most important issues in alcohol sales. Topics include: understanding current laws, what happens when law is violated, recognizing underage customers using false identification, and dealing with intoxicated customers.
